

Dear IAEM Colleagues,

I am excited to announce my candidacy for the IAEM Second Vice President. With years of dedicated service on the board as the Region 9 President and active involvement in various causes, commissions, and working groups, I possess the experience necessary to help lead IAEM USA toward a stronger future.

My commitment to the emergency management profession is unwavering. If elected as the Second Vice President, I will ensure that IAEM continues to be the leading organization for emergency managers, advocating for our profession at all levels of government.

I am deeply passionate about addressing the challenges our communities and profession face. I envision a more agile IAEM, ready to respond swiftly to emerging needs and provide comprehensive support to our members in all aspects of their work.

One fundamental principle guides my approach to leadership: this organization exists for the members, by the members. Together, we can shape IAEM into a stronger, more cohesive association that serves as the beacon for all emergency management professionals.

Accessibility is paramount in this mission. As your Second Vice President, I pledge to be readily accessible to every member. Your voices, concerns, and ideas matter deeply, and I am committed to listening and responding to them with diligence and respect. After all, it is through our collective efforts and collaboration that we can effect real change and progress within our profession.

IAEM is more than just an organization; it is a community bound by a shared dedication to safeguarding lives and property in the face of adversity. As we navigate the complexities of our ever-changing world, I believe in fostering a culture of inclusivity, transparency, and mutual support within IAEM. Together, we can confront the challenges ahead with resilience and innovation, ensuring our association remains at the forefront of emergency management excellence.

I invite each of you to join me on this journey. We will build a stronger, more agile IAEM that represents emergency management professionals' diverse needs and aspirations.

Thank you for your trust and support. I am eager to collaborate with you to realize our shared vision and propel IAEM toward tremendous success.

Sincerely,
