

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

What is an Ambassador?

Ambassadors are conference attendees who volunteer to provide guidance and assistance to other attendees.

They are strategically located throughout the conference facilities. Look for the buttons!

Who can be an Ambassador?

- Any IAEM member in good standing
- Previously attended at least one IAEM conference
- Familiarity with conference facilities

What does an Ambassador do?

- Volunteer for short shifts at locations across the facility
- Help conference attendees feel welcome and comfortable
- Direct attendees to sessions, meals, and events
- Answer questions and connect attendees
- Proactively engage conference attendees

What are the benefits of being an Ambassador?

- Improves the conference experience of attendees
- Provides informal opportunities for networking
- Professionally represent IAEM
- Exclusive access to the coveted Ambassador button

Contact Julie Husk for information on becoming an Ambassador: julie@iaem.com

